This is an ideal option for a competitive workforce and for companies with departments / regional teams.

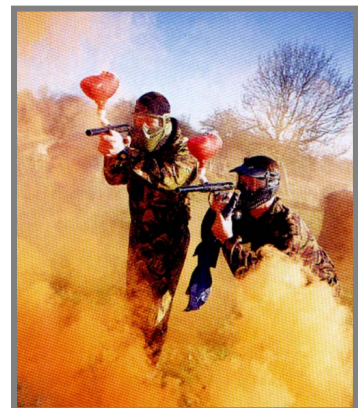

Suggested Programme

The following half day format is suitable for any group ranging in size from 20 to 70 people:

- 1.00 PM Guests arrive at Wedgnoek Rifle Range, Warwick. Tea / coffee is served and an initial briefing will be given to explain the format for the afternoon. Camouflage fatigues will be issued and safety points addressed.

Goggles and Paintball gun will be issued and tested on the target range.
- 1.30 PM Teams head out to their first combat zone. Marshalls will explain the game rules and give each team some tactical hints. A loud blast on the whistle will signal the start of hostilities as the apposing teams try to conquer the opposition.

Hundreds of paint pellets will be fired and smoke will linger in the air from grenades. Many players will be shot and eliminated during the game and one team will emerge triumphant.
- 2.00 PM First game ends. Teams return to the Neutral Zone to replenish their ammo supplies and reconsider tactics. Stories of daring manoeuvres and heroic actions will be recalled and friendly banter will fly between teams.
- 2.10 PM Teams head out to play a further four games.
- 4.30 PM The tension mounts as teams return to the Neutral Zone to hear the scores for the afternoon. The winning team will be awarded with a trophy to show off their victory and a bottle of champagne to wash down their success.
- 4.40 PM Guests depart, tired, muddy, paint stained and happy.
